SALOON ELECTION MAY BE IN JUNE

DOUBT AS TO LEGALITY OF BALLOTS AT EARLIER DATE.

MUST BE 60 DAYS FROM OTHER VOTING

Coming of Anti-Saloon Men Sunday Starts Query as to Time of Next Liquor Fight.

The coming of the Anti-Saloon League men to Maryville next Sunday has raised the query as to when the next local option election will be held. Indications are that it will not be called until next June.

The local organizations have no definite statement to make at this time, but it is understood among temperance workers in Maryville that it would be unwise to call another election in the winter because of the bad weather which was encountered in the liquor election four years ago.

But of greater importance is the judgment of the workers that such an election cannot be called until June legally. Some assert that it can but the general sentiment among leaders is otherwise. Many of the prohibitionists dislike to let the matter go over till June because the saloon men will be able to get licenses in February for another six months.

But the law states that no election can be called by a city council until four years after a previous one. The last election was held January 5, 1911. If a special meeting were held by the city council on January 5 next and the advertising inserted the following day, the statute requires that it shall run twenty-eight days.

Another restriction of the law is that no liquor election may be held within sixty days of any other voting day. The regular city election is April 4. It might be possible to hold a liquor election February 3 or 4, but litigation over the legality of the election would probably follow.

The pro-liquor element has been carrying on a campaign of literature favorable to the saloon rather vigorously for several months in Maryville.

Anti-Saloon Men Sunday.

W. C. Shupp, state superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, with headquarters in St. Louis, and Dr. Albert C. Bushnell, assistant state superintendent in charge of the western district, who lives at Kansas City, will be in Maryville next Sunday.

Dr. Shupp will speak at the Baptist church at the morning service, and E. F. Jones, field manager for the league, who will close a local option fight at Moberly Saturday, will occupy the pulpit of the First Methodist church in the morning. Dr. Bushnell will be at the Presbyterian church at the morning service.

No anti-saloon service will be held at the Buchanan Street Methodist church because of the rally day which is planned for and the presence of the presiding elder, the Rev. C. B. Duncan of St. Joseph, who will preach at both services.

It is probable that the team will go to other towns in the county for the night service. This is the annual field day of the Anti-Saloon League. The organization is a union of all Protestant churches and is pledged to ask but for one service a year in an individual church.

PROUD OF PROF. P. O. LANDON

His Piano Business and the Conservatory of Music Are Increasing Credit to Maryville.

One of our business institutions that promises to develop into large proportions and that has already succeeded beyond the expectations of its friends is that of the Landon Music company. Mr. Landon's high standing as a musician necessarily commands the confidence of the public in his judgment of piano values and that of kindred instruments. His school has not only grown in the public estimation, but his piano sales have increased at a most encouraging rate.

That Mr. Landon holds an enviable place among educators in music is evidenced by the fact that he is frequently the recipient of flattering offers that he cannot entertain. Last fall he was offered the position of supervisor of music in the new Grover Cleveland school in St. Louis, and this fall a similar position in the Soldan high school, the largest in St. Louis, was placed at his disposal. Mr. Landon is of course not looking for any position and does not give consideration to them for himself, but is frequently able to recommend some deserving friend for advancement. Meanwhile Maryville is glad to have as a part of her business life a man who takes such high rank in the profession to which he belongs.

STRUCK BOY AND FLED.

Homer Ogden Knocked Off Bicycle by Car, Which Dashed Away.

A Ford automobile struck Homer Ogden, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Ogden, knocking him from the bicycle on which he was riding from the Normal on West Fourth street Monday.

SUFFRAGE DEFEATED

IN THREE EASTERN STATES YESTERDAY BY BIG MAJORITIES.

THE REPUBLICANS GAINED

Massachusetts Elected a G. O. P. Governor and Made Other Gains—Ohio Keeps Its Saloons.

The right to vote was denied women of New York, Pennsylvania and Massachusetts yesterday, according to returns from the elections in those three states.

The indicated majorities against suffrage were as follows:

Massachusetts, 108,000. (Returns practically complete.)

New York, 205,668. (About two-thirds of the state reported.)

Pennsylvania, 165,000. (About one-fifth of the state reported.)

With eleven states rejecting woman's suffrage the past three years and the solid South against it, it is not believed that the women will be able to get any action from congress on a constitutional amendment although they are planning a vigorous campaign

Republicans made gains in four states in the election yesterday. They added a governor in Massachusetts, made general gains in New Jersey and Kentucky and won two congressmen.

Samuel W. McCall, republican, defeated Gov. David L. Walsh, democrat, in the race for governorship of Massachusetts. Mr. Walsh was seeking reelection for a third term. The Republicans also elected the entire state ticket and gained twelve seats in the legislature.

In Maryland, E. C. Harrington for governor was elected over the Republican nominee, O. E. Weller. The legislature will be Democratic.

The Republicans gained two state senators in New Jersey in yesterday's contest.

Kentucky, voting for governor, elected A. O. Stanley, Democrat.

Democratic voters in Mississippi elected yesterday a full set of state, county and district officers on a ticket headed by Theodore G. Bilbo for govenor.

Returns from eighteen of the larger cities in New York state show twelve Republican, five Democratic and one Socialist mayor elected.

The Republicans won in Philadelphia, electing Thomas B. Smith for mayor.

For the second time in two years Ohio voters yesterday rejected a statewide prohibition amendment to the constitution. It was defeated by a majority of 50,000, some 30,000 less than the previous election.

NO MORE CLAIRVOYANTS

MAYOR REFUSES LICENSE AND ASKS NEW ORDINANCE.

Fortune Tellers Threaten Mandamus Proceedings But Old City Law is Put in Force.

Clairvoyants and fortune tellers will black list Maryville after next Friday night, when the city council will probably pass an ordinance making it impossible for them to operate here. Mayor U. S. Wright has instructed W. H. Crawford, city attorney, to draft such a measure.

A renewal of the license for a group who have been here since the beginning of last week was refused Monday by Mayor Wright. He bases his decision on an ordinance of very ancient date. The license fee is $5 and can be granted for one week at a time.

The "future-foreseers" have threatened a mandamus proceeding and other dire things if the head of the city government does not relent. They assert that the old ordinance is a dead letter.

The mayor insists that it is all right but will have the measure repealed and a new "airtight" one proposed and passed if the council concurs in his desires and beliefs.

TO BURLINGTON JUNCTION.

Party From Here Will Help in Conferring Degrees Tonight.

A party of Masons will go from here tonight to Burlington Junction, where they will assist the local lodge in the conferring of degrees on a class of candidates. They will make the trip in automobiles.

County Superintendent of Schools and Mrs. Bert Cooper will leave in the morning for Kansas City to attend the State Teachers' association.

COUNTY COURT PROCEEDINGS

Members Go to Other Townships to See Bridge Work—Collector Johnson's Bond Approved.

Judge E. T. Bailey went to Burlington Junction last night to look at the work on the new steel bridge three-quarters of a mile west of that city. He says that the grading and approach work which the township is doing will make the bridge one of the best in the county. It is a 108-foot span.

Judge Matt Farnan went to Grant township this morning to see the erection of several small bridges there. The county court yesterday approved the township collector bond of A. J. Johnson for Green township.

OCTOBER WAS IDEAL

TWENTY-SIX CLEAR DAYS AND ONLY .42 INCHES RAINFALL.

81 AND 26 EXTREMES

Three Cloudy and Two Partly So Add Variety—Open Season on Weather Grouches.

Yes, sir, and yes, ma'am, October was one of those "yours truly" months. That isn't a matter of editorial opinion or of general public sentiment altogether, either.

J. R. Brink, observer, and the United States weather bureau bear out the statement. Twenty-six days were perfectly clear, the kind of Indian summer days which make half of the population assert often that the poet was altogether mistaken about when the "rare" days come.

Only three days were cloudy and less than a half inch of rain fell during the month—.42 to be exact. Two days were just half and half. It rained almost five inches in October, 1914.

The lowest temperature of the month was on the 9th, when a killing frost came, the first of the year. Light frost had fallen three days before on the mornings of the 5th and 6th.

But most of the days were balmy. The mercury rose to 81 on the 24th, which was the highest of the month. Many have profited by the weather. The surface of the ground has been almost ideal for farm work, while the soil has held enough moisture from the wet summer to make fall pasture good.

Most of the towns having good baseball teams have kept on with their schedule through the month. And all the football games have been played on chilly days but not uncomfortable for spectators.

Three warmer Octobers on an average have blessed this part of the country. They were 1897, 1899 and 1900. The next year, 1901, had the same mean temperature. The grand total of sunshine hours for last month was 288.

It was an open season for weather grouches.

CRAIG TO ST. LOUIS MEETING.

Men From Over Missouri Are in Session There Today to Consider Gardner Land Bank Bill.

Senator Anderson Craig left last night for St. Louis to attend a meeting to discuss tentative plans for obtaining signatures for initiative petitions for the Gadner Land Bank Bill so that the measure can be submitted to the voters of Missouri as a constitutional amendment at the general election in 1916. Senator Craig is chairman of the executive committee of the organization. About fifty delegates are expected to be in attendance.

The bill, sponsored by Col. Fred D. Gardner of St. Louis passed both branches of the last General Assembly, but through on oversight an enabling act to submit it as a constitutional amendment was overlooked.

MAY NOT APPOINT MEMBER.

It is Said Mayor May Wait Another Month to Name Third Ward Alderman.

Mayor U. S. Wright is still undecided as to the successor to H. L. Raines as alderman of the third ward. The council is to meet Friday night in regular session, when it is expected that an appointment will be made at that time. However, it was announced today that Mayor Wright may not appoint for another month.

"While there are plenty of good men in the third ward," said Mayor Wright, "yet I may not appoint anyone at this time."

Wm. Beggs of Guilford was a city visitor today.

The rural mail carriers of the Maryville postoffice delivered during October 55,760 peces of mail, weighing 7,838 pounds and 7 ounces, according to a count and weight kept by them for the postoffice department. FUNSTON ASKS INVASION

SAYS CAN'T STOP MEXICANS FIRING OTHERWISE.

Douglas Will Be Bombarded in Retaliation if U. S. Troops Shoot Only From This Side.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Washington, Nov. 3.—General Funston, in charge of the United States troops at Douglas, Ariz., has asked permission of the state department to invade Mexico.

He says that if his men are not allowed to follow and punish Mexicans who fire into American soil, there is no use firing at all, for they will make it an excuse for bombarding Douglas.

President Wilson will probably refuse the request unless President Carranza of Mexico consents to the invasion.

Carranzistas Start Counter Attacks.

Douglas, Ariz., Nov. 3.—The Carranza garrison has begun serious counter attacks against Villa's attacking force. In one early this morning a squad of forty-five men from the fort were cut to pieces and all killed.

One well established report is that Villa is retreating.

Villa Says He'll Succeed.

Douglas, Ariz., Nov. 3.—Despite his defeat, General Villa declares that he will capture Agua Prieta regardless of any sacrifice necessary. Maj. Gen. Frederick Funston is strengthening the guard along the border.

Gen. Villa received eight thousand reinforcements from Chihuahua, and when he makes his fifth assault on the Carranza stronghold of Agua Prieta he will have an army of 23,000, while General Calles, the Carranza leader, has 7,000.

MAYOR OBJECTS AGAIN

WRIGHT TELLS WABASH SOMETHING MUST BE DONE.

Sewer Conditions at Fill Are Terrible—Odor Bad on Pickering Road.

Mayor U. S. Wright today addressed another letter to the Wabash Railroad company, through its agent here, telling them that something must be done to remedy the condition of the sewer on East Seventh street. The letter follows:

Maryville, Nov. 3, 1915.—Mr. E. L. Ferritor, Agent Wabash R. R., Maryville, Mo.: Dear Sir—Calling your attention again to the condition of the sewer at your fill on East Seventh street, allow me to say that something must be done by your company in regard to relieving the bad conditions resulting from the break in the sewer at this joint. Conditions here are getting terrible. Your engineer need only visit the locality to be convinced.

Please give this immediate attention.

Very truly yours,

U. S. WRIGHT, Mayor.

The odor from the sewage in the ditch which runs along the north side of the Wabash tracks most noticeable is at the concrete culvert on the Pickering road just north of the crossing of the Burlington and Wabash. This road is largely used, and the city authorities have received many complaints because of the unpleasantness while passing through the low part of the road there.

NEW GERMAN INVASION ON DANUBE AT UZIE

Briand Makes Appeal in Chamber of Deputies for Greater Devotion to Cause of Entente.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Paris, Nov. 3.—Premier Briand announced in the chamber of deputies this morning that the three allied countries of England, France and Russia will save Servia.

He said that they would act in closer union than ever before, and that rapid decisions and prompt executions would be made. New policies will be energetic, making the defeat of Germany certain, the new prime minister announces.

"But every one must respond," said the leader to the deputies. "Every lack of discipline must be reported and weakness must be severely punished."

Briand then continued to outline the policy of the government.

Reports from the Balkan front say that the Bulgarians have been repulsed easily in every attack around Strumnitza and the fighting continues. The assault at Kritvolak was notable, although unsuccessful for the Bulgarians.

Further gains in the Dardanelles are reported.

Another Teutonic Invasion.

Berlin, Nov. 3.—The German army in the Balkans have captured Uzie in Servia and a new invasion of that country has been commenced along the Danube.

The evacuation of a line of trenches in Artois, France, is admitted.

Roumania Won't Enter.

London, Nov. 3.—Efforts of the Allies to get Roumania to enter the war have failed, it is learned on high authority. Roumania prefers to cast lot with Allies but will remain neutral unless Austro-Germans are defeated in Servia.

It is believed that the Allies sent help too late to save Serbians.

Italians Captured Town.

Rome, Nov. 3.—It is announced that the Italians have captured the fortified town of Zagora from the Austrians and also four strong line trenches on Podgora Heights on Issonzo front. The reports from Udine say fighting is the fiercest since war began.

A CHANCE FOR STATISTICIANS.

The gross earnings, says the Chicago Journal, of the Pennsylvania lines east of Pittsburg for the month of September were $20,817,361. The net earnings of the same lines for the same month were $7,282,021. Only twice in the history of the Pennsylvania have these gross earnings been exceeded, while the net earnings of September, 1915, were the greatest in the history of the road.

Statisticians of the G. O. P. will now proceed to reconcile these facts with their favorite dogma that there ain't no such thing as good times under a Democratic administration.

Hair Stops Falling Out and Gets Thick, Wavy, Strong and Beautiful.

Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after a "Danderine hair cleanse." Just try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt and excessive oil and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair.

Besides beautifying the hair at once, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair.

But what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use when you will actually see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over the scalp. If you care for pretty, soft hair and lots of it surely get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any druggist or toilet counter, and just try it.

CATTLE AND SERUM TESTS

Department of Agriculture's Statement of the Origin of Present Outbreak in Northern Illinois.

Washington, Nov. 3.—An official statement in regard to the recent reappearance in northern Illinois of the foot and mouth disease after it had been apparently stamped out early in the year, was issued today by the United States department of agriculture. From this statement it appears that the outbreak has now been definitely traced to an antihog-cholera serum prepared from the blood of hogs infected with foot and mouth disease but showing at the time the serum was manufactured no symptoms of the contagion. According to the statement, the serum was thoroughly tested before it was permitted to be placed upon the market, and the tests failed to reveal any evidence of contamination. After the recurrence of the disease in Illinois, samples of the serum were tested again and again by the Department of Agriculture and also tested by the United States Public Health Service. It was not until the sixty-second animal used in the tests had been inoculated with the serum, however, that the bacteriologists of the department were able to produce any symptoms of foot and mouth disease.

LOST AND FOUND

By ANNE BROADHURST.

Having learned that a brisk walk and deep breathing in the cool air are a better cure for the blues than taking "a good cry," Elinor went out as soon as she had finished her dinner and walked until the darkness drove her in. As she neared her boarding house she saw at the edge of the curb a man's leather bill purse, which she picked up. As she saw no one near who could have dropped it, she took it to her room.

"Fifty dollars! Just what I hoped to win in that contest!" Then Elinor saw that the purse also contained some cards. "If I don't know whose it is I can't return it; and if I don't look at these cards I won't know, but—

"To a man who carries a purse of this quality and who uses engraved cards fifty dollars probably means very little," she mused, "but to me it means a winter suit and a month's board." Slowly she began to tear the cards, but as the tough pasteboard began to yield to her trembling fingers she stopped abruptly.

"Horrors!" she gasped. "I said I must win, and this is losing even my honor. Oh, I hate you!" And she swept the money from her and looked at the cards.

"Mr. Joseph Stanley Morton," she read, but the name meant nothing to her. She looked in the telephone book and found the following: "J. Stanley Morton, Broker, 515 City Bk. Bldg." No residence number being given, she could not notify him that night.

Elinor had no opportunity to telephone during her busy morning, so she went during her noon hour next day to deliver the purse to its owner.

As she entered Elinor saw that the only occupant of the room was a tall, well-built man whose dark head was bent over a typewritten statement lying on the table before which he sat. Hearing the door close, he turned upon her a kindly glance from a pair of dark gray eyes.

"Are you Mr. Joseph Stanley Morton?" Elinor began.

"Yes." The deep voice had a slightly rising inflection.

"Here is something of yours that I happened to find last night." She handed him the purse.

"Why what a pleasant surprise to find the purse, and how kind of you to bring it to me! I thank you sincerely. Now, won't you sit down and tell me all about it?"

Elinor sat down and told him briefly where and how she found the purse.

"I'm going to confess to you," said Morton, "that this very day I've been thinking that honesty is an unknown quantity these days, so, you see, you have restored to me far more than my lost money; you've restored my lost faith in humanity." He was leaning toward her with the friendliest look in his clear eyes, but the sudden change which swept over Elinor puzzled him.

"Don't, please don't!" she almost wailed. "If you knew how near I came to keeping it you'd hate me. Oh, I must tell somebody—" and grasping the arms of her chair as if to support herself, and looking into her lap, she told him just what she first thought of doing with his money. As she talked her cheeks faded from crimson to white. Then she rose to leave. Stanley Morton had been sitting with his elbow on the table and his right hand shielding his eyes, but he rose quickly and stood between her and the door, with his right hand extended and a sympathetic smile in his eyes.

"Please let me say that I understand fully, and that I honor your bravery as much as your honesty. Many of us are passively honest when it's convenient, but you are actively honest even when it means a hard fight. You've made the world seem right again for me, and now won't you promise me that if I can ever make things easier for you you will let me serve you?" The man's sincerity was unmistakable, and Elinor extended her hand and smiled up at him frankly.

"You've already made things easier by forgiving me, and you've understood, and that is what counts most, you know." It was only after she had gone that Stanley Morton realized that she had not told him her name or given him any clue about her work.

One morning, a month later, as Elinor was at her work in the book store she turned from the shelves with half a dozen books in her arms and a near-sighted customer, intent upon a book he held, collided with her, scattering the books in all directions. A gentleman who was approaching picked up two of the books and was about to pass on with a formal acknowledgment of Elinor's thanks, when their eyes chanced to meet. It was Stanley Morton.

"At last I've found you, as I knew I should find you some day." His words came deliberately, but his tone made each word a caress. "But there are always twofold discoveries about you, and I'm daring to believe that I've found in your eyes evidence that in your heart there is something of the same love that has been growing in mine ever since the day I found you. This is no place to say it, but I love you and need you and want you."

Her eyes fell on the title of the book he held in his hand. It was "Paradise Regained."

ERROR GIVES SCARE TO NAVAL PAYMASTER

Slip In Making Up Estimates Cuts $196,000 From Pay.

Washington.—In making up the navy department estimates for the ensuing fiscal year enough enlisted men were overlooked to make an aggregate of $196,000.

It caused not a little consternation in the office of the paymaster general of the navy. A board of four officers was appointed to go over the figures and locate the error, and it took them four days to do it.

One year somebody overlooked all of the warrant officers assigned to duty in the engine rooms of our naval vessels. The amount involved on that occasion was $224,000.

The error managed to pass undiscovered for a time. It finally got to the engine room crews, however, and they promptly announced that unless their salaries were included in the estimates instanter not an engine in the navy would turn over. It did not take the powers that be long to discover the error and correct it.

The marvel to officials is that so few errors occur in making up the estimates, when the innumerable governmental activities are taken into consideration. Usually when the book of estimates is finally completed in the treasury department from the figures submitted by the several departments it is correct down to the smallest detail.

SNAKES IN SCHOOL LOCKER.

Scare Girls, Who Now Pick Steps Because Some Escaped.

La Crosse, Wis.—Normal school maidens are walking circumspectly since the discovery of a nest of so called water moccasins deposited in a locker by a reptilian mother evidently anxious to obtain education for her family.

There was real excitement when the nest of small reptiles was discovered. With the opening of the locker the snakes darted out and about the floor, and there was a scramble. Some of the snakes met violent deaths, but several wriggled into holes of safety; hence the circumspection.

Starts, Can't Stop Car.

Hartford City, Ind.—John Holcroft, a farmer near here, bought an automobile and took it out to practice running it. He laid the book of instructions open on the seat beside him and just as he turned into the highway a gust of wind wafted away the book of instructions, and he did not know how to stop the car. Holcroft was carried on, shouting to be told how to stop. Halfway to town, however, he ran out of gasoline.

MAKES MODEL OF HIS JAIL

Prisoner Works For Fun — Wouldn't Work For His Children.

San Francisco. — Joseph Swanson serving a term in the county jail for failure to provide for his children, has proved his ability to provide for them if he cared to try.

During three weeks in jail he modeled a wooden replica of the building in which he is imprisoned with a sawjackknife and a pot of glue. The windows are made of celluloid panes Swanson has presented his model to Sheriff Barnet, who has placed it in his collection of curiosities.

She "Chewed," He Said.

Huntington, W. Va.—Francis M. Edgell got a divorce because his wife, according to his petition, persisted in chewing tobacco in bed. He also got the custody of the four children.

1,000,000 NAMES FOR SUFFS

Two Women in Itinerary Across Continent Gathering Names to Arrive at Opening of Congress.

Washington, Nov. 3.—Determined to compel Congress to turn its attention to the women suffrage question, two women today are motoring across the American continent, bearing a petition, which by the time it reaches Washington is expected to show at least a million signatures of persons praying for equal suffrage.

The women are Mrs. Sarah Bard Field of Portland, Ore., a prominent feminist of that state and Miss Frances Jolliffe, a sister-in-law of Rudolph Spreckles, the San Francisco sugar millionaire.

At the suffrage booth at the San Francisco Exposition these women gathered a half million signatures for their petition, which asks a constitutional amendment permitting women to vote. Then they fared forth in a touring car and crossing mountains and deserts, picked up signatures enroute. Speeches urging the suffrage cause are being delivered by the women as they pass through the cities and towns lying in their routes. In the principal cities they are being given special receptions by the local suffragists.

The itinerary east of the plains is: Kansas City, October 22; Minneapolis, Oct. 29; Chicago, Nov. 6; Indianapolis, Nov. 11; Detroit, Nov. 13; Toledo, Nov. 14; Columbus, Nov. 15; Cleveland, Nov. 18; Erie, Pa., Nov. 18; Buffalo, Nov. 19; Syracuse, Nov. 20; Albany, Nov. 21; Springfield, Mass., Nov. 23; Boston, Nov. 24; Providence, Nov. 25; New Haven, Nov. 27; New York, Nov. 28; Newark, Nov. 30; Philadelphia, Dec. 1; Baltimore, Dec. 2 and Washington, Dec. 6.

They will arrive in the capital the day congress opens and after presenting their petition to President Wilson will begin an active campaign to convince members of Congress that the salvation of the country lies in the adoption of a suffrage amendment.

MUST WARN OF CHOLERA

Law Requires Yellow Flag on All the Gates Entering Farm Where There Are Diseased Hogs.

Who ever saw a yellow flag up on every gate going into a farm? Tho' this county has lost many thousands of dollars by cholera among hogs in the past few years no one has ever mentioned seeing a yellow flag, 10 x 12 inches on every gate into a man's premises where cholera was piling up his hogs, as the law provides.

Yet that is precisely what the law requires. The state laws prescribe a penalty of from $10 to $50 for failure to warn of the presence of cholera on the farm by such a flag. All such swine must be burned fully and carefully.

The driving of diseased swine along a public road or their hauling in any vehicle, either alive or dead, is prohibited. It is the duty of any person knowing of a violation of the statute to report the same to the state veterinarian or a deputy.

The state veterinarian or any deputy has authority to arrest and prosecute any offender.

Victrolas—Grafonolas

Do you know that last year the trade in these machines was so great that very few retail houses could supply their customers? Many machines sold at Christmas could not be delivered until weeks afterwards. This condition is already beginning to show this year and we would advise those who expect to purchase machines for Christmas to make selections now and have the machine you want reserved. We have placed large orders in all the different sizes and will endeavor to keep our stock complete, but the demand for these instruments at this time of the year makes it advisable to make early selections. We will be glad to demonstrate machines and records at any time, whether you expect to purchase or not. Victrolas and Grafonolas from $15.00 to $250.00 in stock.

HOW TO CURE MEATS.

University of Missouri Gives Actual Practice in Farm Butchering to Agriculture Students.

The farmer who is tired of eating improperly cured meats or who loses money each year in butchering is not a graduate of the Two-Year Winter Course in Agriculture of the University of Missouri at Columbia. In this course students are taught to kill, cut up, and cure their own meats.

Actual practice is given the students in the short course in slaughtering beeves, hogs, and sheep under farm conditions. The meat slaughtered is cut up and cured by the students. The relative values of the different cuts are learned. The instructors show how to make them and how to use economically the cheaper cuts.

The University is provided with farm equipment for butchering and curing meats. Two half-days a week are given to the class in butchering during the second term of the last year.

THERMOMETER ON THE FARM

Farmer May Save Many Valuable Products Through a Knowledge of Temperature Conditions.

On the farm much besides personal comfort and health depends on the temperature. Chemical changes are going on about us at all times, and, as a rule, take place more rapidly the warmer substances are. Note, for instance, the rapid rotting of fruit, the souring of milk, and decomposition in general when temperatures are high. It is important, therefore, on most farms to have a good thermometer and to expose it so that it will give an exact record. The following suggestions are from an article published by one of the weather specialists in the department Year Book.

When buying a thermometer select one which bears the name of the maker and with the Fahrenheit scale etched on the glass stem, although one so made is usually more expensive than one with a metal scale. Further, in choosing a thermometer one should have in mind the use for which it is intended. There are thermometers for all uses—cooking, dairying, for outside, and so on. Thermometers for scientific purposes are provided with a Centigrade scale in which zero is the freezing point and 100 degrees the boiling point.

In most cases a thermometer hung in the free air will not give the actual temperature of the air, because it may be subject to the direct rays of the sun, and because radiation from the thermometer can take place unimpeded Probably the best way to expose a thermometer in order to determine the temperature of the air is to hang it in a shelter so made that air may blow freely through it. A good result may be obtained also by rapidly whirling the thermometer in any outdoor shade.

NURSERY INSPECTION LAW.

Trees for Planting Should Have a Nursery Inspection Certificate Attached.

Do you want San Jose scale or other dangerous insects or diseases on your planted fruit trees? Then watch all deliveries of nursery stock and see that each one has an official inspection certificate signed by L. Haseman, entomologist and chief inspector. This certificate of nursery inspection is issued by the Agricultural Experiment Station of the University of Missouri and indicates that the stock in question has been found "apparently free from dangerously injurious insects or plant diseases" by the chief inspector or his deputy who may also sign.

If any trees are delivered without such a certificate, the law and your own protection both require that you report at once to the chief inspector of nurseries, Columbia, Mo.

Stock shipped in from other states must have a certificate similar in every way except that the inspector of that state may sign instead of the Missouri inspector.

All agents who take orders in Missouri are required to have written permits to sell nursery stock, and farmers and fruit-growers are urged to require that the permit be shown. Agents who undertake to take orders without such a permit should be reported. Dealers in fruit trees must also have certificates permitting them to carry on this trade even tho they do not act as the official agents of particular nurseries.

Through the annual inspection which is required by law, the Agricultural Experiment Station hopes to secure better and cleaner nursery stock, but the cooperation of the nurserymen and fruit-growers in this work is necessary or success is attained.

Neglect of children's colds often lays the foundation of serious lung trouble. On the other hand, it is harmful to continually dose delicate little stomachs with internal medicines or to keep the children always indoors.

GIRL'S MIND FAILS TO TELL OF CURE

Paralytic Nor Parents Discover She Is Better.

CHILD'S CASE A PUZZLE.

Bedridden and Speechless For Three Years After Fall, Now Cured Excepting Her Mind Fails to Register Fact. Los Angeles Teacher Led Her to Walk and Speak.

Los Angeles.—One of the most remarkable cases known in medical history and one fraught with interest both to surgeons and to students of psychology has been called to the attention of scientists in this city. It is the case of Carlotaa Sausedo, a fifteen year-old schoolgirl.

For three years Carlotaa was considered a hopeless paralytic, who would never be able to speak or walk She had been injured by a fall on her head from a swing when she was twelve years old.

It is declared now by doctors and her teachers that whatever body or brain injuries she may have received from that fall have been absolutely outgrown and that she is perfectly normal physically and mentally, except that her mind has failed to register the fact of her recovery.

In other words, according to the doctors, if the child's mind can be wakened to the fact that she has recovered from her fall she will be able to walk, talk and develop as other children do.

While three weeks ago Carlotaa could not speak and could not walk alone, today she speaks with ease, walks without help and can even walk up and down the school stairs alone.

Three years ago the little girl pitched from a swing to her head. She was picked up and stood on her feet. Instead of standing still she began to whirl round and round. She was entirely unable to stand still or to sit up. She was put to bed and pronounced a hopeless paralytic. Her power of speech was completely stopped.

With the beginning of the present school term Miss Ettie Lee, one of the grammar school teachers, discovered the child. There were five other children in the family, all normal, and Miss Lee inquired into Carlotaa's history. Securing medical examination, she learned that, whatever bodily injury may have been caused by the fall, it no longer existed.

"We cannot tell Carlotaa she is not a cripple or sick, because her mind has to be wakened up gradually to that fact," Miss Lee said, "but we are teaching her by degrees. She is placed in a special class at school, and her teacher invents little exercises and lessons for her.

"She had to be almost carried to school. Her teacher made a small sand pile in the playground and many times a day took Carlotaa there and helped her walk over it. Today Carlotaa can walk up and down the school stairs.

"When school opened she could not talk. Now she talks to us and knows what we say. She can count in English and Spanish and can write her own name. Her father tells me she was unusually bright before the fall, and I see no reason to suppose that she cannot be restored to her former condition.

"She has been in bed for the greater part of the past three years, as the schools at Chino would not take her in. So while her body healed itself, apparently, her mind never recovered from the shock of the fall."

Little Carlotaa was taken to the Parent-Teacher clinic for further examinations to verify the diagnosis of other doctors. If a similar report is made her special teachers will continue as they have begun in their novel work of teaching the child's mind that her body is neither paralyzed nor injured in any way.

OLDEST RED CROSS MEMBER.

Is Pointed Cap, Canadian Indian, Who at 108 Sends Portrait.

Ottawa, Canada.—A novel picture has been received by Sir Robert Borden, the Canadian premier, and forwarded by him to the local Red Cross rooms. It is that of the oldest member of the Red Cross society in the world and at that a western Indian, Pointed Cap, who belongs to the File hills Indian reserve in Saskatchewan. He will be 108 years old on Nov. 14 next.

The establishment of a branch of the Red Cross society for these Indians shows how deeply the people of all classes in the Dominion are interested in the war and eager to find a way of lending assistance, it is said.

Give your Child Dr. King's New Discovery for Coughs and Colds.

Dr. King's New Discovery is a Doctor's Prescription used for over 45 years. It is pleasant and children like it.

You cannot use anything better for your child's cough and cold than Dr. King's New Discovery. It is prepared from Pine Tar mixed with healing and soothing balsams. It does not contain anything harmful and is slightly laxative, just enough to expel the poisons from the system. Dr. King's New Discovery is antiseptic—kills the cold germs—raises the phlegm—loosens the cough and soothes the irritation.

"I have used Dr. King's New Discovery for the past three years and use it continually in my family. My children are very fond of it for it keeps them free from cold. I can't say too much for it, and take pleasure in recommending it to my friends." Mrs. A. S. Haines, Franconia, N. H.

Don't put off treatment. Coughs and colds often lead to a chronic cough, pneumonia and other serious lung troubles. It is also good for adults and the aged. Get a bottle to-day. All druggists.

Make Your Work Most Enjoyable.

Henry Ford: I believe I shall live to be at least 95 years old, and want to live only as long as I am able to work. A man's work is the most important thing in his life. Kansas City Stock Market.

Kansas City Stock Yards, Nov. 1.—A big drop in cattle receipts last week after Monday enabled the market to quickly regain its stride, and closing prices were fully as high on practically all kinds of cattle as close of previous week. Nearly 76,000 cattle were received last week, and of this number 51,707 head were bought for country account.

On Wednesday 15,400 stockers and feeders went out, heaviest single day's shipment on record here, the week also making a new record, with the forgoing number, and the month of October also setting a new high record for one month's outgo of stockers and feeders, at 185,690 head. Kansas is the heaviest buyer, taking almost 50 per cent of the outgo for October, Missouri second with a good increase over a year ago, Illinois buying more than any time previously in two years, and Oklahoma is taking liberal numbers.

The supply today is 33,000 head, with a heavy proportion of stockers and feeders, which class are selling actively at strong prices. Beef cattle are fully steady today, some prime natives at $10.00. Kansas pasture steers quotable about like last week, at $6.75 to $8.75. A string of Stonebreaker steers sold to feeder buyers at $6.85, 10 cents above a week ago, and Greenwood county, Kansas, steers also sold to feeder buyers up to $8.

Fancy New Mexico yearlings brought $8.50, good range yearlings and twos $6.75 to $7.50, plain stockers $5.75 to $6.50. Some panhandle feeders around 1,025 pounds sold at $6.90 to $7.10. Good heavy native cows sell around $6, good heifers $7, corn-fed heifers up to $9.25, quarantine steers $5.75 to $6.50, common cows $5.00, bulls $5.00 to $6.00, best veals $10.00. Hogs are in light supply yet, 8,000 here today, and prices are a quarter higher than a week ago.

Order buyers paid 5 to 10c higher prices today, $7.30 to $7.50 for most of their hogs, including heavy weights at $7.45. Packers paid steady prices, largely $7 to $7.30. The present advance in prices is not regarded as permanent, packers still figuring on putting up droves at $6 or less by late December. Order buyers are filling liberal orders and are more of a factor than any time since the recent break.

Sheep and lambs sold strong today, best lambs $8.60, bulk of the lambs around $8.50, receipts 11,000. These prices apply to fed western lambs, which are now beginning to come. Ewes sell at $5.50 to $5.85. Range offerings are largely feeding stock and breeders, and there is a fair amount coming, which is pleasing to late buyers. Feeding lambs sell at $7.75 to $8.40, feeding yearlings $6.60 to $7.00, good western breeding ewes $5.50 to $7.00, feeding ewes $4.75 to $5.00.

SALOON ELECTION MAY BE IN JUNE

DOUBT AS TO LEGALITY OF BALLOTS AT EARLIER DATE.

MUST BE 60 DAYS FROM OTHER VOTING

Coming of Anti-Saloon Men Sunday Starts Query as to Time of Next Liquor Fight.

The coming of the Anti-Saloon League men to Maryville next Sunday has raised the query as to when the next local option election will be held. Indications are that it will not be called until next June.

The local organizations have no definite statement to make at this time, but it is understood among temperance workers in Maryville that it would be unwise to call another election in the winter because of the bad weather which was encountered in the liquor election four years ago.

But of greater importance is the judgment of the workers that such an election cannot be called until June legally. Some assert that it can but the general sentiment among leaders is otherwise. Many of the prohibitionists dislike to let the matter go over till June because the saloon men will be able to get licenses in February for another six months.

But the law states that no election can be called by a city council until four years after a previous one. The last election was held January 5, 1911. If a special meeting were held by the city council on January 5 next and the advertising inserted the following day, the statute requires that it shall run twenty-eight days.

Another restriction of the law is that no liquor election may be held within sixty days of any other voting day. The regular city election is April 4. It might be possible to hold a liquor election February 3 or 4, but litigation over the legality of the election would probably follow.

The pro-liquor element has been carrying on a campaign of literature favorable to the saloon rather vigorously for several months in Maryville.

Anti-Saloon Men Sunday.

W. C. Shupp, state superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, with headquarters in St. Louis, and Dr. Albert C. Bushnell, assistant state superintendent in charge of the western district, who lives at Kansas City, will be in Maryville next Sunday.

Dr. Shupp will speak at the Baptist church at the morning service, and E. F. Jones, field manager for the league, who will close a local option fight at Moberly Saturday, will occupy the pulpit of the First Methodist church in the morning. Dr. Bushnell will be at the Presbyterian church at the morning service.

No anti-saloon service will be held at the Buchanan Street Methodist church because of the rally day which is planned for and the presence of the presiding elder, the Rev. C. B. Duncan of St. Joseph, who will preach at both services.

It is probable that the team will go to other towns in the county for the night service. This is the annual field day of the Anti-Saloon League. The organization is a union of all Protestant churches and is pledged to ask but for one service a year in an individual church.

PROUD OF PROF. P. O. LANDON

His Piano Business and the Conservatory of Music Are Increasing Credit to Maryville.

One of our business institutions that promises to develop into large proportions and that has already succeeded beyond the expectations of its friends is that of the Landon Music company. Mr. Landon's high standing as a musician necessarily commands the confidence of the public in his judgment of piano values and that of kindred instruments. His school has not only grown in the public estimation, but his piano sales have increased at a most encouraging rate.

That Mr. Landon holds an enviable place among educators in music is evidenced by the fact that he is frequently the recipient of flattering offers that he cannot entertain. Last fall he was offered the position of supervisor of music in the new Grover Cleveland school in St. Louis, and this fall a similar position in the Soldan high school, the largest in St. Louis, was placed at his disposal. Mr. Landon is of course not looking for any position and does not give consideration to them for himself, but is frequently able to recommend some deserving friend for advancement. Meanwhile Maryville is glad to have as a part of her business life a man who takes such high rank in the profession to which he belongs.

SUFFRAGE DEFEATED

IN THREE EASTERN STATES YESTERDAY BY BIG MAJORITIES.

THE REPUBLICANS GAINED

Massachusetts Elected a G. O. P. Governor and Made Other Gains—Ohio Keeps Its Saloons.

The right to vote was denied women of New York, Pennsylvania and Massachusetts yesterday, according to returns from the elections in those three states.

The indicated majorities against suffrage were as follows:

Massachusetts, 108,000. (Returns practically complete.)

New York, 205,668. (About two-thirds of the state reported.)

Pennsylvania, 105,000. (About one-fifth of the state reported.)

With eleven states rejecting woman's suffrage the past three years and the solid South against it, it is not believed that the women will be able to get any action from congress on a constitutional amendment although they are planning a vigorous campaign

Republicans made gains in four states in the election yesterday. They added a governor in Massachusetts, made general gains in New Jersey and Kentucky and won two congressmen.

Samuel W. McCall, republican, defeated Gov. David L. Walsh, democrat, in the race for governorship of Massachusetts. Mr. Walsh was seeking reelection for a third term. The Republicans also elected the entire state ticket and gained twelve seats in the legislature.

In Maryland, E. C. Harrington for governor was elected over the Republican nominee, O. E. Weller. The legislature will be Democratic.

The Republicans gained two state senators in New Jersey in yesterday's contest.

Kentucky, voting for governor, elected A. O. Stanley, Democrat.

Democratic voters in Mississippi elected yesterday a full set of state, county and district officers on a ticket headed by Theodore G. Bilbo for govenor.

Returns from eighteen of the larger cities in New York state show twelve Republican, five Democratic and one Socialist mayor elected.

The Republicans won in Philadelphia, electing Thomas B. Smith for mayor.

For the second time in two years Ohio voters yesterday rejected a statewide prohibition amendment to the constitution. It was defeated by a majority of 50,000, some 30,000 less than the previous election.

MAYOR REFUSES LICENSE AND ASKS NEW ORDINANCE.

Fortune Tellers Threaten Mandamus Proceedings But Old City Law is Put in Force.

Clairvoyants and fortune tellers will black list Maryville after next Friday night, when the city council will probably pass an ordinance making it impossible for them to operate here. Mayor U. S. Wright has instructed W. H. Crawford, city attorney, to draft such a measure.

A renewal of the license for a group who have been here since the beginning of last week was refused Monday by Mayor Wright. He bases his decision on an ordinance of very ancient date. The license fee is $5 and can be granted for one week at a time.

The "future-foreseers" have threatened a mandamus proceeding and other dire things if the head of the city government does not relent. They assert that the old ordinance is a dead letter.

The mayor insists that it is all right but will have the measure repealed and a new "airtight" one proposed and passed if the council concurs in his desires and beliefs.

TO BURLINGTON JUNCTION.

Party From Here Will Help in Conferring Degrees Tonight.

A party of Masons will go from here tonight to Burlington Junction, where they will assist the local lodge in the conferring of degrees on a class of candidates. They will make the trip in automobiles.

County Superintendent of Schools and Mrs. Bert Cooper will leave in the morning for Kansas City to attend the State Teachers' association.

COUNTY COURT PROCEEDINGS

Members Go to Other Townships to See Bridge Work—Collector Johnson's Bond Approved.

Judge E. T. Bailey went to Burlington Junction last night to look at the work on the new steel bridge three-quarters of a mile west of that city. He says that the grading and approach work which the township is doing will make the bridge one of the best in the county. It is a 108-foot span.

Judge Matt Farnan went to Grant township this morning to see the erection of several small bridges there. The county court yesterday approved the township collector bond of A. J. Johnson for Green township.

OCTOBER WAS IDEAL

TWENTY-SIX CLEAR DAYS AND ONLY .42 INCHES RAINFALL.

81 AND 26 EXTREMES

Three Cloudy and Two Partly So Add Variety—Open Season on Weather Grouches.

Yes, sir, and yes, ma'am, October was one of those "yours truly" months. That isn't a matter of editorial opinion or of general public sentiment altogether, either.

J. R. Brink, observer, and the United States weather bureau bear out the statement. Twenty-six days were perfectly clear, the kind of Indian summer days which make half of the population assert often that the poet was altogether mistaken about when the "rare" days come.

Only three days were cloudy and less than a half inch of rain fell during the month—.42 to be exact. Two days were just half and half. It rained almost five inches in October, 1914.

The lowest temperature of the month was on the 9th, when a killing frost came, the first of the year. Light frost had fallen three days before on the mornings of the 5th and 6th.

But most of the days were balmy. The mercury rose to 81 on the 24th, which was the highest of the month. Many have profited by the weather. The surface of the ground has been almost ideal for farm work, while the soil has held enough moisture from the wet summer to make fall pasture good.

Most of the towns having good baseball teams have kept on with their schedule through the month. And all the football games have been played on chilly days but not uncomfortable for spectators.

Three warmer Octobers on an average have blessed this part of the country. They were 1897, 1899 and 1900. The next year, 1901, had the same mean temperature. The grand total of sunshine hours for last month was 288.

It was an open season for weather grouches.

CRAIG TO ST. LOUIS MEETING.

Men From Over Missouri Are in Session There Today to Consider Gardner Land Bank Bill.

Senator Anderson Craig left last night for St. Louis to attend a meeting to discuss tentative plans for obtaining signatures for initiative petitions for the Gadner Land Bank Bill so that the measure can be submitted to the voters of Missouri as a constitutional amendment at the general election in 1916. Senator Craig is chairman of the executive committee of the organization. About fifty delegates are expected to be in attendance.

The bill, sponsored by Col. Fred D. Gardner of St. Louis passed both branches of the last General Assembly, but through on oversight an enabling act to submit it as a constitutional amendment was overlooked.

MAY NOT APPOINT MEMBER.

It is Said Mayor May Wait Another Month to Name Third Ward Alderman.

Mayor U. S. Wright is still undecided as to the successor to H. L. Raines as alderman of the third ward. The council is to meet Friday night in regular session, when it is expected that an appointment will be made at that time. However, it was announced today that Mayor Wright may not appoint for another month.

"While there are plenty of good men in the third ward," said Mayor Wright, "yet I may not appoint anyone at this time."

Wm. Beggs of Guilford was a city visitor today.

OVER 55,000 PIECES

DELIVERED BY RURAL MAIL CARRIERS IN OCTOBER.

THE WEIGHT WAS 7,838

Increase Over July Count, But a Decrease Over April and January—Muntz Has the Most Pieces.

The rural mail carriers of the Maryville postoffice delivered during October 55,760 peces of mail, weighing 7,838 pounds and 7 ounces, according to a count and weight kept by them for the postoffice department. The count shows an increase over that for the month of July, but a decrease as compared to the April and January counts. In July there were 53,940 pieces of mail delivered, weighing 7,002 pounds; in April, 57,171 pieces, weighing 7,992 pounds; in January, 62,597 pieces, weighing 7,527 pounds.

During October, James S. Muntz, carrier on route 3, delivered the largest number of pieces, while Ira Bailey, carrier on route 5, had the biggest weight.

The number of pieces collected by the carriers was 4,062, and the weight was 265 pounds and 7 ounces.

The following is the count for each carrier for October:

Route 1, Howard Watson, carrier—7,694 pieces delivered, weight 1,029 pounds 7 ounces; 419 pieces collected, weight 24 pounds 9 ounces.

Route 2, Don D. Davis, carrier—7,245 pieces delivered, weight 992 pounds 7 ounces; 384 pieces collected, weight 24 pounds 2 ounces.

FUNSTON ASKS INVASION

SAYS CAN'T STOP MEXICANS FIRING OTHERWISE.

Douglas Will Be Bombarded in Retaliation if U. S. Troops Shoot Only From This Side.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Washington, Nov. 3.—General Funston, in charge of the United States troops at Douglas, Ariz., has asked permission of the state department to invade Mexico.

He says that if his men are not allowed to follow and punish Mexicans who fire into American soil, there is no use firing at all, for they will make it an excuse for bombarding Douglas.

President Wilson will probably refuse the request unless President Carranza of Mexico consents to the invasion.

Carranzistas Start Counter Attacks.

Douglas, Ariz., Nov. 3.—The Carranza garrison has begun serious counter attacks against Villa's attacking force. In one early this morning a squad of forty-five men from the fort were cut to pieces and all killed.

One well established report is that Villa is retreating.

Villa Says He'll Succeed.

Douglas, Ariz., Nov. 3.—Despite his defeat, General Villa declares that he will capture Agua Prieta regardless of any sacrifice necessary. Maj. Gen. Frederick Funston is strengthening the guard along the border.

Gen. Villa received eight thousand reinforcements from Chihuahua, and when he makes his fifth assault on the Carranza stronghold of Agua Prieta he will have an army of 23,000, while General Calles, the Carranza leader, has 7,000.

MAYOR OBJECTS AGAIN

WRIGHT TELLS WABASH SOMETHING MUST BE DONE.

Sewer Conditions at Fill Are Terrible—Odor Bad on Pickering Road.

Mayor U. S. Wright today addressed another letter to the Wabash Railroad company, through its agent here, telling them that something must be done to remedy the condition of the sewer on East Seventh street. The letter follows:

Maryville, Nov. 3, 1915.—Mr. E. L. Ferritor, Agent Wabash R. R., Maryville, Mo.: Dear Sir—Calling your attention again to the condition of the sewer at your fill on East Seventh street, allow me to say that something must be done by your company in regard to relieving the bad conditions resulting from the break in the sewer at this joint. Conditions here are getting terrible. Your engineer need only visit the locality to be convinced.

Please give this immediate attention.

Very truly yours,

U. S. WRIGHT, Mayor.

The odor from the sewage in the ditch which runs along the north side of the Wabash tracks most noticeable is at the concrete culvert on the Pickering road just north of the crossing of the Burlington and Wabash. This road is largely used, and the city authorities have received many complaints because of the unpleasantness while passing through the low part of the road there.

NEW GERMAN INVASION ON DANUBE AT UZIE

Briand Makes Appeal in Chamber of Deputies for Greater Devotion to Cause of Entente.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Paris, Nov. 3.—Premier Briand announced in the chamber of deputies this morning that the three allied countries of England, France and Russia will save Servia.

He said that they would act in closer union than ever before, and that rapid decisions and prompt executions would be made. New policies will be energetic, making the defeat of Germany certain, the new prime minister announces.

"But every one must respond," said the leader to the deputies. "Every lack of discipline must be reported and weakness must be severely punished."

Briand then continued to outline the policy of the government.

Reports from the Balkan front say that the Bulgarians have been repulsed easily in every attack around Strumnitza and the fighting continues. The assault at Kritvolak was notable, although unsuccessful for the Bulgarians.

Further gains in the Dardanelles are reported.

Another Teutonic Invasion.

Berlin, Nov. 3.—The German army in the Balkans have captured Uzie in Servia and a new invasion of that country has been commenced along the Danube.

The evacuation of a line of trenches in Artois, France, is admitted.

Roumania Won't Enter.

London, Nov. 3.—Efforts of the Allies to get Roumania to enter the war have failed, it is learned on high authority. Roumania prefers to cast lot with Allies but will remain neutral unless Austro-Germans are defeated in Servia.

It is believed that the Allies sent help too late to save Serbians.

Italians Captured Town.

Rome, Nov. 3.—It is announced that the Italians have captured the fortified town of Zagora from the Austrians and also four strong line trenches on Podgora Heights on Issonzo front. The reports from Udine say fighting is the fiercest since war began.

Tuesday seems to have been a bad day for the ladies who want to vote. New York, Massachusetts and Pennsylvania refused to entertain their wishes.

No, Bernie Harris is not a clothing man. He is the editor of the Smithville Democrat-Herald and is said to be as good an editor as Berney Harris is a clothier, which is good enough.

The Republican press is worrying considerably about the "war between the federal and the state crowd." This war seems to be known only to these papers and their political backers where the wish is father to the thought.

A CHANCE FOR STATISTICIANS.

The gross earnings, says the Chicago Journal, of the Pennsylvania lines east of Pittsburg for the month of September were $20,817,361. The net earnings of the same lines for the same month were $7,282,021. Only twice in the history of the Pennsylvania have these gross earnings been exceeded, while the net earnings of September, 1915, were the greatest in the history of the road.

Statisticians of the G. O. P. will now proceed to reconcile these facts with their favorite dogma that there ain't no such thing as good times under a Democratic administration.

GIRLS! GIRLS! TRY IT! STOP DANDRUFF AND BEAUTIFY YOUR HAIR

Hair Stops Falling Out and Gets Thick, Wavy, Strong and Beautiful.

Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after a "Danderine hair cleanse." Just try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt and excessive oil and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair.

Besides beautifying the hair at once, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair.

But what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use when you will actually see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over the scalp. If you care for pretty, soft hair and lots of it surely get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any druggist or toilet counter, and just try it.

CATTLE AND SERUM TESTS

Department of Agriculture's Statement of the Origin of Present Outbreak in Northern Illinois.

Washington, Nov. 3.—An official statement in regard to the recent reappearance in northern Illinois of the foot and mouth disease after it had been apparently stamped out early in the year, was issued today by the United States department of agriculture. From this statement it appears that the outbreak has now been definitely traced to an antihog-cholera serum prepared from the blood of hogs infected with foot and mouth disease but showing at the time the serum was manufactured no symptoms of the contagion. According to the statement, the serum was thoroughly tested before it was permitted to be placed upon the market, and the tests failed to reveal any evidence of contamination. After the recurrence of the disease in Illinois, samples of the serum were tested again and again by the Department of Agriculture and also tested by the United States Public Health Service. It was not until the sixty-second animal used in the tests had been inoculated with the serum, however, that the bacteriologists of the department were able to produce any symptoms of foot and mouth disease.

LOST AND FOUND

By ANNE BROADHURST.

Having learned that a brisk walk and deep breathing in the cool air are a better cure for the blues than taking "a good cry," Elinor went out as soon as she had finished her dinner and walked until the darkness drove her in. As she neared her boarding house she saw at the edge of the curb a man's leather bill purse, which she picked up. As she saw no one near who could have dropped it, she took it to her room.

"Fifty dollars! Just what I hoped to win in that contest!" Then Elinor saw that the purse also contained some cards. "If I don't know whose it is I can't return it; and if I don't look at these cards I won't know, but—

"To a man who carries a purse of this quality and who uses engraved cards fifty dollars probably means very little," she mused, "but to me it means a winter suit and a month's board." Slowly she began to tear the cards, but as the tough pasteboard began to yield to her trembling fingers she stopped abruptly.

"Horrors!" she gasped. "I said I must win, and this is losing even my honor. Oh, I hate you!" And she swept the money from her and looked at the cards.

"Mr. Joseph Stanley Morton," she read, but the name meant nothing to her. She looked in the telephone book and found the following: "J. Stanley Morton, Broker, 515 City Bk. Bldg." No residence number being given, she could not notify him that night.

Elinor had no opportunity to telephone during her busy morning, so she went during her noon hour next day to deliver the purse to its owner.

As she entered Elinor saw that the only occupant of the room was a tall, well-built man whose dark head was bent over a typewritten statement lying on the table before which he sat. Hearing the door close, he turned upon her a kindly glance from a pair of dark gray eyes.

"Are you Mr. Joseph Stanley Morton?" Elinor began.

"Yes." The deep voice had a slightly rising inflection.

"Here is something of yours that I happened to find last night." She handed him the purse.

"Why what a pleasant surprise to find the purse, and how kind of you to bring it to me! I thank you sincerely. Now, won't you sit down and tell me all about it?"

Elinor sat down and told him briefly where and how she found the purse.

"I'm going to confess to you," said Morton, "that this very day I've been thinking that honesty is an unknown quantity these days, so, you see, you have restored to me far more than my lost money; you've restored my lost faith in humanity." He was leaning toward her with the friendliest look in his clear eyes, but the sudden change which swept over Elinor puzzled him.

"Don't, please don't!" she almost wailed. "If you knew how near I came to keeping it you'd hate me. Oh, I must tell somebody—" and grasping the arms of her chair as if to support herself, and looking into her lap, she told him just what she first thought of doing with his money. As she talked her cheeks faded from crimson to white. Then she rose to leave. Stanley Morton had been sitting with his elbow on the table and his right hand shielding his eyes, but he rose quickly and stood between her and the door, with his right hand extended and a sympathetic smile in his eyes.

"Please let me say that I understand fully, and that I honor your bravery as much as your honesty. Many of us are passively honest when it's convenient, but you are actively honest even when it means a hard fight. You've made the world seem right again for me, and now won't you promise me that if I can ever make things easier for you you will let me serve you?" The man's sincerity was unmistakable, and Elinor extended her hand and smiled up at him frankly.

"You've already made things easier by forgiving me, and you've understood, and that is what counts most, you know." It was only after she had gone that Stanley Morton realized that she had not told him her name or given him any clue about her work.

One morning, a month later, as Elinor was at her work in the book store she turned from the shelves with half a dozen books in her arms and a near-sighted customer, intent upon a book he held, collided with her, scattering the books in all directions. A gentleman who was approaching picked up two of the books and was about to pass on with a formal acknowledgment of Elinor's thanks, when their eyes chanced to meet. It was Stanley Morton.

"At last I've found you, as I knew I should find you some day." His words came deliberately, but his tone made each word a caress. "But there are always twofold discoveries about you, and I'm daring to believe that I've found in your eyes evidence that in your heart there is something of the same love that has been growing in mine ever since the day I found you. This is no place to say it, but I love you and need you and want you."

Her eyes fell on the title of the book he held in his hand. It was "Paradise Regained."

ERROR GIVES SCARE TO NAVAL PAYMASTER

Slip In Making Up Estimates Cuts $196,000 From Pay.

Washington.—In making up the navy department estimates for the ensuing fiscal year enough enlisted men were overlooked to make an aggregate of $196,000.

It caused not a little consternation in the office of the paymaster general of the navy. A board of four officers was appointed to go over the figures and locate the error, and it took them four days to do it.

One year somebody overlooked all of the warrant officers assigned to duty in the engine rooms of our naval vessels. The amount involved on that occasion was $224,000.

The error managed to pass undiscovered for a time. It finally got to the engine room crews, however, and they promptly announced that unless their salaries were included in the estimates instanter not an engine in the navy would turn over. It did not take the powers that be long to discover the error and correct it.

The marvel to officials is that so few errors occur in making up the estimates, when the innumerable governmental activities are taken into consideration. Usually when the book of estimates is finally completed in the treasury department from the figures submitted by the several departments it is correct down to the smallest detail.

SNAKES IN SCHOOL LOCKER.

Scare Girls, Who Now Pick Steps Because Some Escaped.

La Crosse, Wis.—Normal school maidens are walking circumspectly since the discovery of a nest of so called water moccasins deposited in a locker by a reptilian mother evidently anxious to obtain education for her family.

There was real excitement when the nest of small reptiles was discovered. With the opening of the locker the snakes darted out and about the floor, and there was a scramble. Some of the snakes met violent deaths, but several wriggled into holes of safety; hence the circumspection.

Starts, Can't Stop Car.

Hartford City, Ind.—John Holcroft, a farmer near here, bought an automobile and took it out to practice running it. He laid the book of instructions open on the seat beside him and just as he turned into the highway a gust of wind wafted away the book of instructions, and he did not know how to stop the car. Holcroft was carried on, shouting to be told how to stop. Halfway to town, however, he ran out of gasoline.

MAKES MODEL OF HIS JAIL

Prisoner Works For Fun—Wouldn't Work For His Children.

San Francisco. — Joseph Swanson serving a term in the county jail for failure to provide for his children, has proved his ability to provide for them if he cared to try.

During three weeks in jail he modeled a wooden replica of the building in which he is imprisoned with a saw, jackknife and a pot of glue. The windows are made of celluloid panes. Swanson has presented his model to Sheriff Barnet, who has placed it in his collection of curiosities.

She "Chewed," He Said.

Huntington, W. Va.—Francis M. Edgell got a divorce because his wife, according to his petition, persisted in chewing tobacco in bed. He also got the custody of the four children.

1,000,000 NAMES FOR SUFFS

Two Women in Itinerary Across Continent Gathering Names to Arrive at Opening of Congress.

Washington, Nov. 3.—Determined to compel Congress to turn its attention to the women suffrage question, two women today are motoring across the American continent, bearing a petition, which by the time it reaches Washington is expected to show at least a million signatures of persons praying for equal suffrage.

The women are Mrs. Sarah Bard Field of Portland, Ore., a prominent feminist of that state and Miss Frances Jolliffe, a sister-in-law of Rudolph Spreckles, the San Francisco sugar millionaire.

At the suffrage booth at the San Francisco Exposition these women gathered a half million signatures for their petition, which asks a constitutional amendment permitting women to vote. Then they fared forth in a touring car and crossing mountains and deserts, picked up signatures enroute. Speeches urging the suffrage cause are being delivered by the women as they pass through the cities and towns lying in their routes. In the principal cities they are being given special receptions by the local suffragists.

The itinerary east of the plains is: Kansas City, October 22; Minneapolis, Oct. 29; Chicago, Nov. 6; Indianapolis, Nov. 11; Detroit, Nov. 13; Toledo, Nov. 14; Columbus, Nov. 15; Cleveland, Nov. 18; Erie, Pa., Nov. 18; Buffalo, Nov. 19; Syracuse, Nov. 20; Albany, Nov. 21; Springfield, Mass., Nov. 23; Boston, Nov. 24; Providence, Nov. 25; New Haven, Nov. 27; New York, Nov. 28; Newark, Nov. 30; Philadelphia, Dec. 1; Baltimore, Dec. 2 and Washington, Dec. 6.

They will arrive in the capital the day congress opens and after presenting their petition to President Wilson will begin an active campaign to convince members of Congress that the salvation of the country lies in the adoption of a suffrage amendment.

MUST WARN OF CHOLERA

Law Requires Yellow Flag on All the Gates Entering Farm Where There Are Diseased Hogs.

Who ever saw a yellow flag up on every gate going into a farm? Tho' this county has lost many thousands of dollars by cholera among hogs in the past few years no one has ever mentioned seeing a yellow flag, 10 x 12 inches on every gate into a man's premises where cholera was piling up his hogs, as the law provides.

Yet that is precisely what the law requires. The state laws prescribe a penalty of from $10 to $50 for failure to warn of the presence of cholera on the farm by such a flag. All such swine must be burned fully and carefully.

The driving of diseased swine along a public road or their hauling in any vehicle, either alive or dead, is prohibited. It is the duty of any person knowing of a violation of the statute to report the same to the state veterinarian or a deputy.

The state veterinarian or any deputy has authority to arrest and prosecute any offender.

HOW TO CURE MEATS.

University of Missouri Gives Actual Practice in Farm Butchering to Agriculture Students.

The farmer who is tired of eating improperly cured meats or who loses money each year in butchering is not a graduate of the Two-Year Winter Course in Agriculture of the University of Missouri at Columbia. In this course students are taught to kill, cut up, and cure their own meats.

Actual practice is given the students in the short course in slaughtering beeves, hogs, and sheep under farm conditions. The meat slaughtered is cut up and cured by the students. The relative values of the different cuts are learned. The instructors show how to make them and how to use economically the cheaper cuts.

The University is provided with farm equipment for butchering and curing meats. Two half-days a week are given to the class in butchering during the second term of the last year.

THERMOMETER ON THE FARM

Farmer May Save Many Valuable Products Through a Knowledge of Temperature Conditions.

On the farm much besides personal comfort and health depends on the temperature. Chemical changes are going on about us at all times, and, as a rule, take place more rapidly the warmer substances are. Note, for instance, the rapid rotting of fruit, the souring of milk, and decomposition in general when temperatures are high. It is important, therefore, on most farms to have a good thermometer and to expose it so that it will give an exact record. The following suggestions are from an article published by one of the weather specialists in the department Year Book.

When buying a thermometer select one which bears the name of the maker and with the Fahrenheit scale etched on the glass stem, although one so made is usually more expensive than one with a metal scale. Further, in choosing a thermometer one should have in mind the use for which it is intended. There are thermometers for all uses—cooking, dairying, for outside, and so on. Thermometers for scientific purposes are provided with a Centigrade scale in which zero is the freezing point and 100 degrees the boiling point.

In most cases a thermometer hung in the free air will not give the actual temperature of the air, because it may be subject to the direct rays of the sun, and because radiation from the thermometer can take place unimpeded Probably the best way to expose a thermometer in order to determine the temperature of the air is to hang it in a shelter so made that air may blow freely through it. A good result may be obtained also by rapidly whirling the thermometer in any outdoor shade.

NURSERY INSPECTION LAW.

Trees for Planting Should Have a Nursery Inspection Certificate Attached.

Do you want San Jose scale or other dangerous insects or diseases on your planted fruit trees? Then watch all deliveries of nursery stock and see that each one has an official inspection certificate signed by L. Haseman, entomologist and chief inspector. This certificate of nursery inspection is issued by the Agricultural Experiment Station of the University of Missouri and indicates that the stock in question has been found "apparently free from dangerously injurious insects or plant diseases" by the chief inspector or his deputy who may also sign.

If any trees are delivered without such a certificate, the law and your own protection both require that you report at once to the chief inspector of nurseries, Columbia, Mo.

Stock shipped in from other states must have a certificate similar in every way except that the inspector of that state may sign instead of the Missouri inspector.

All agents who take orders in Missouri are required to have written permits to sell nursery stock, and farmers and fruit-growers are urged to require that the permit be shown. Agents who undertake to take orders without such a permit should be reported. Dealers in fruit trees must also have certificates permitting them to carry on this trade even tho they do not act as the official agents of particular nurseries.

Through the annual inspection which is required by law, the Agricultural Experiment Station hopes to secure better and cleaner nursery stock, but the cooperation of the nurserymen and fruit-growers in this work is necessary or success is attained.

Carefully Treat Children's Colds

Neglect of children's colds often lays the foundation of serious lung trouble. On the other hand, it is harmful to continually dose delicate little stomachs with internal medicines or to keep the children always indoors.

Plenty of fresh air in the bedroom and a good application of Vick's "Vap-O-Rub" Salve over the throat and chest at the first sign of trouble, will keep the little chaps free from colds without injuring their digestions. 25c, 50c, or $1.00.

A Charming Redingote Dress

McCall Pattern No. 6885, one of the many new designs for December.

One of the smartest of the new designs for the popular serge or cloth frock is the redingote. It offers an excellent opportunity for introducing a bit of contrast as illustrated, a plaid taffeta, serge, or black satin, or taffeta. Serge, gaberdine, or broadcloth would make up well after this design; also velveteen, or one of the novelty checks now favored, combined with a plain contrasting fabric. WE are now prepared to give unusual service to those who wish to make their apparel at home. Our new McCall patterns for December are here—our piece goods sections' have a wonderful assortment of the various fabrics in the favored colorings—the trimming, dress accessory and notion departments have very complete stocks at this time—and our salesladies have studied the latest styles, know the leading fabrics, the newest colors and the latest trimming effects. GIRL'S MIND FAILS TO TELL OF CURE

Paralytic Nor Parents Discover She Is Better.

CHILD'S CASE A PUZZLE.

Bedridden and Speechless For Three Years After Fall, Now Cured Excepting Her Mind Fails to Register Fact. Los Angeles Teacher Led Her to Walk and Speak.

Los Angeles.—One of the most remarkable cases known in medical history and one fraught with interest both to surgeons and to students of psychology has been called to the attention of scientists in this city. It is the case of Carlotaa Sausedo, a fifteen year-old schoolgirl.

For three years Carlotaa was considered a hopeless paralytic, who would never be able to speak or walk She had been injured by a fall on her head from a swing when she was twelve years old.

It is declared now by doctors and her teachers that whatever body or brain injuries she may have received from that fall have been absolutely outgrown and that she is perfectly normal physically and mentally, except that her mind has failed to register the fact of her recovery.

In other words, according to the doctors, if the child's mind can be wakened to the fact that she has recovered from her fall she will be able to walk, talk and develop as other children do.

While three weeks ago Carlotaa could not speak and could not walk alone, today she speaks with ease, walks without help and can even walk up and down the school stairs alone.

Three years ago the little girl pitched from a swing to her head. She was picked up and stood on her feet. Instead of standing still she began to whirl round and round. She was entirely unable to stand still or to sit up. She was put to bed and pronounced a hopeless paralytic. Her power of speech was completely stopped.

With the beginning of the present school term Miss Ettie Lee, one of the grammar school teachers, discovered the child. There were five other children in the family, all normal, and Miss Lee inquired into Carlotaa's history. Securing medical examination, she learned that, whatever bodily injury may have been caused by the fall, it no longer existed.

"We cannot tell Carlotaa she is not a cripple or sick, because her mind has to be wakened up gradually to that fact," Miss Lee said, "but we are teaching her by degrees. She is placed in a special class at school, and her teacher invents little exercises and lessons for her.

"She had to be almost carried to school. Her teacher made a small sand pile in the playground and many times a day took Carlotaa there and helped her walk over it. Today Carlotaa can walk up and down the school stairs.

"When school opened she could not talk. Now she talks to us and knows what we say. She can count in English and Spanish and can write her own name. Her father tells me she was unusually bright before the fall, and I see no reason to suppose that she cannot be restored to her former condition.

"She has been in bed for the greater part of the past three years, as the schools at Chino would not take her in. So while her body healed itself, apparently, her mind never recovered from the shock of the fall."

Little Carlotaa was taken to the Parent-Teacher clinic for further examinations to verify the diagnosis of other doctors. If a similar report is made her special teachers will continue as they have begun in their novel work of teaching the child's mind that her body is neither paralyzed nor injured in any way.

OLDEST RED CROSS MEMBER.

Is Pointed Cap, Canadian Indian, Who at 108 Sends Portrait.

Ottawa, Canada.—A novel picture has been received by Sir Robert Borden, the Canadian premier, and forwarded by him to the local Red Cross rooms. It is that of the oldest member of the Red Cross society in the world and at that a western Indian, Pointed Cap, who belongs to the File hills Indian reserve in Saskatchewan. He will be 108 years old on Nov. 14 next.

The establishment of a branch of the Red Cross society for these Indians shows how deeply the people of all classes in the Dominion are interested in the war and eager to find a way of lending assistance, it is said.

Professor Bridwell was last heard from when he sailed from Sydney, N. S. W., for ports on the west coast of Australia, whence he expected to proceed inland.

Give your Child Dr. King's New Discovery for Coughs and Colds.

Dr. King's New Discovery is a Doctor's Prescription used for over 45 years. It is pleasant and children like it.

You cannot use anything better for your child's cough and cold than Dr. King's New Discovery. It is prepared from Pine Tar mixed with healing and soothing balsams. It does not contain anything harmful and is slightly laxative, just enough to expel the poisons from the system. Dr. King's New Discovery is antiseptic—kills the cold germs—raises the phlegm—loosens the cough and soothes the irritation.

"I have used Dr. King's New Discovery for the past three years and use it continually in my family. My children are very fond of it for it keeps them free from cold. I can't say too much for it, and take pleasure in recommending it to my friends." Mrs. A. S. Haines, Franconia, N. H.

Don't put off treatment. Coughs and colds often lead to a chronic cough, pneumonia and other serious lung troubles. It is also good for adults and the aged. Get a bottle to-day. All druggists.

Make Your Work Most Enjoyable.

Henry Ford: I believe I shall live to be at least 95 years old, and want to live only as long as I am able to work. A man's work is the most important thing in his life. Kansas City Stock Market.

Kansas City Stock Yards, Nov. 1.—A big drop in cattle receipts last week after Monday enabled the market to quickly regain its stride, and closing prices were fully as high on practically all kinds of cattle as close of previous week. Nearly 76,000 cattle were received last week, and of this number 51,707 head were bought for country account.

On Wednesday 15,400 stockers and feeders went out, heaviest single day's shipment on record here, the week also making a new record, with the foregoing number, and the month of October also setting a new high record for one month's outgo of stockers and feeders, at 185,690 head. Kansas is the heaviest buyer, taking almost 50 per cent of the outgo for October, Missouri second with a good increase over a year ago, Illinois buying more than any time previously in two years, and Oklahoma is taking liberal numbers.

The supply today is 33,000 head, with a heavy proportion of stockers and feeders, which class are selling actively at strong prices. Beef cattle are fully steady today, some prime natives at $10.00. Kansas pasture steers quotable about like last week, at $6.75 to $8.75. A string of Stonebreaker steers sold to feeder buyers at $6.85, 10 cents above a week ago, and Greenwood county, Kansas, steers also sold to feeder buyers up to $8.

Fancy New Mexico yearlings brought $8.50, good range yearlings and twos $6.75 to $7.50, plain stockers $5.75 to $6.50. Some panhandle feeders around 1,025 pounds sold at $6.90 to $7.10. Good heavy native cows sell around $6, good heifers $7, corn-fed heifers up to $9.25, quarantine steers $5.75 to $6.50, common cows $5.00, bulls $5.00 to $6.00, best veals $10.00. Hogs are in light supply yet, 8,000 here today, and prices are a quarter higher than a week ago.

Order buyers paid 5 to 10c higher prices today, $7.30 to $7.50 for most of their hogs, including heavy weights at $7.45. Packers paid steady prices, largely $7 to $7.30. The present advance in prices is not regarded as permanent, packers still figuring on putting up droves at $6 or less by late December. Order buyers are filling liberal orders and are more of a factor than any time since the recent break.

Sheep and lambs sold strong today, best lambs $8.60, bulk of the lambs around $8.50, receipts 11,000. These prices apply to fed western lambs, which are now beginning to come. Ewes sell at $5.50 to $5.85. Range offerings are largely feeding stock and breeders, and there is a fair amount coming, which is pleasing to late buyers. Feeding lambs sell at $7.75 to $8.40, feeding yearlings $6.60 to $7.00, good western breeding ewes $5.50 to $7.00, feeding ewes $4.75 to $5.00.
